

SPRING 2025 WEEK 1 EMAIL

We're almost done with Week 1 – hopefully it was a great experience for all of your athletes! We've gotten good reports from different coaches; the returning kids are shaking the rust off very well, kids that have moved groups seem to be acclimating nicely, and our new BACers are doing a great job of fitting in and making friends. Keep it up!

A couple of logistical things...

SPRING PARENT MEETING

As expected, only a very few attending live, which is 100% fine! As we said, viewing the info is REQUIRED, but viewing it asynchronously on YouTube is just fine. HERE IS THE LINK. We've also posted the link and a pdf of the power point under the 'emails and docs' tab on the website.

SPRING CLOTHING ORDER

We've attached a flyer (also posted under Emails and Docs) with information on our spring clothing order through Simply Swimming. They've put together some new and different color schemes and items for spring, so check it out! A couple of other things to note...

- Spring fees include a FREE bucket hat – you do NOT need to order those
- There are NOT suits or caps included with spring fees as is generally the case for the fall & winter. Additionally, BAC suits and caps are NOT required for spring swimmers. Simply Swimming has a limited amount of each in store if anyone is interested
- The deadline is April 20th and apparel should be delivered in mid May!

SPRING FEES AND INVOICES

This was mentioned as part of the Spring Parent Meeting, but we typically don't send invoices until Week 2. (It's easier to sort and adjust rosters first and THEN send out the invoice.) You should expect to get something from Sherry next week, and reach out to her with any questions.

MEETS

The spring and summer meet schedule has been posted for a while, but no meets are open for sign up yet. We'll post some next week and email about each one individually once we do.

That's all for now! Reach out with any questions, and GO BAC!
